Obtaining a degree from an accredited college or university will strengthen your academic credentials as your degree would be recognized internationally. Before applying to any college or university, make sure that the academic institute is recognized and accredited by a registered body such as USBES. Accreditation is a proof that the programs and courses offered at a particular university or school are accredited and are up to the standards of global education. Accreditation adds value to your educational profile which ends up with better job prospects in future.

Many institutes and universities prefer accreditation from USBES as it provides reliability and global acceptability of the academic credentials. Students who receive higher education from the accredited education providers, feel confident about their academic career as they are at par with the global standards of education.

TYPES OF ACCREDITATION OFFERED AT USBES

PROGRAMMATIC ACCREDITATION

Programmatic Accreditation includes individual programs, schools and departments within the academic institutes across the globe. There are numerous accrediting agencies that provide specialized accreditation in various fields of study including engineering, nursing, project management, business, law, arts and many more.

The core focus of programmatic accreditation is on individual programs as it holds the same significance as regional accreditation. Programmatic accreditation makes sure that the programs offered meet the international education standards.

INSTITUTIONAL ACCREDITATION

USBES offers international accreditation to those educational institutes that provide quality education to students, based on global academic standards and policies. The aim is to make the education standardized on global level.

USBES offers an evaluation process for academic institutes which measures the institute based on the quality of the programs offered, education provided, type of faculty, fee structure, curriculum, organizational structure and other career services offered.

CRITERIA OF ACCREDITATION

The criteria for accreditation depends on the standards of quality by which the evaluation commissioners conclude whether an institution merits accreditation or reaffirmation of accreditation. The criteria of USBES is not a simple process, we have strict criteria to keep the education standards high. The criteria is set on mutual agreements and discussions by USBES team and evaluation agents. Despite of a strict criteria, it is broad and flexible enough as every institute differs from one another in terms of course structure, foundations, rules and regulations.

01. The Applicant Or The Applicant Institute Should:

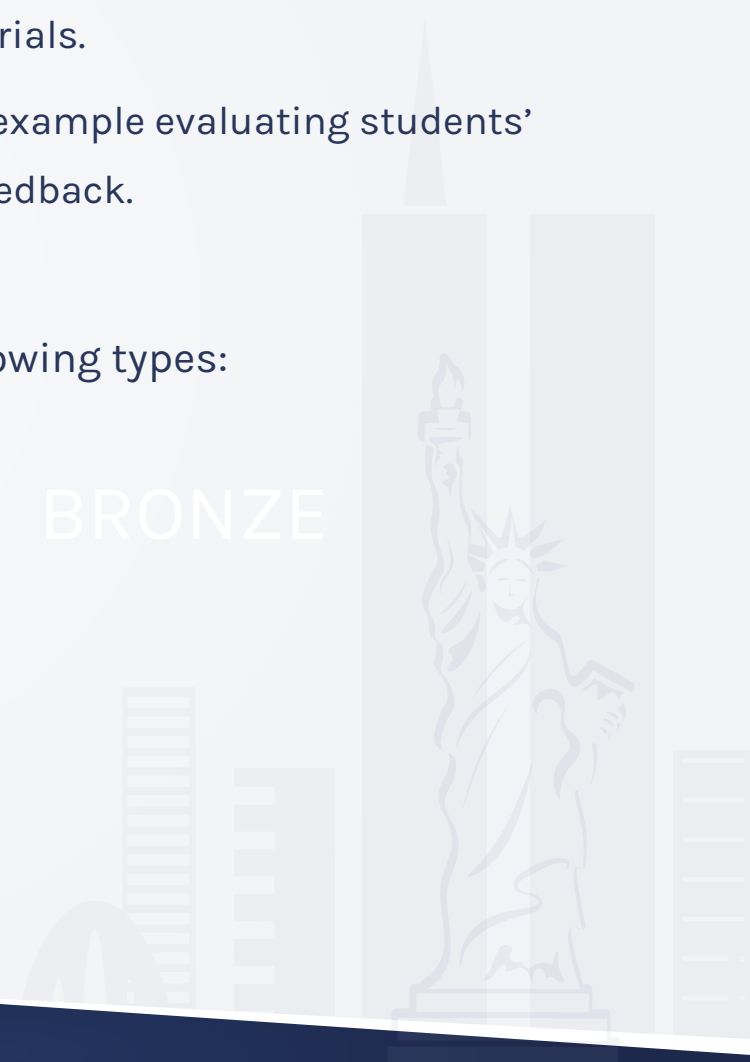

- Enrol students through a proper process and maintain students' record.
- Retain and hire qualified faculty members to cater students in professional way.
- Transmit information to students in organized instructional materials.
- Provides two way communications on students' assignments for example evaluating students' examinations, projects, and/or answering queries, with prompt feedback.

02. The applicants or the applicant institutes can be of the following types:

- Higher Education Universities and Institutes
- E-Learning/Distance Learning Universities and Institutes
- Career Colleges

USBES PROCESS OF ACCREDITATION

USBES offers information that you require to gain accreditation through its simple and easy accreditation process. The process is thoroughly scrutinized by our team to make sure that institutes are reaching the next step in the correct manner. The process reviews the mission of the institute along with its faculty, curriculum and the lifestyle that is being offered to the students.

STEP
01

MEMBERSHIP

USBES Membership is the first step towards the journey of Prime Accreditation. It also benefits institutes who would like to be associated with USBES without going through the full accreditation process.

STEP
02

PRE-ACCREDITATION

In the stage of Pre-accreditation, one of our evaluation commission member will visit your campus to evaluate the educational standards and quality of education provided. Our member will look into your brochure, organizational structure, administration processes, faculty members, provided facilities course structure, etc. After thorough inspection the decision of accreditation will be made.

STEP
03

ACCREDITATION

Once you qualify for the accreditation status, your university, institute, school or college will now be recognized on all global platforms as the institute providing quality education. Moreover, your institute degree will be accepted by educational institute and employers internationally.

STEP

POST ACCREDITATION EVALUATION

In this stage, one of our evaluation commission member will again visit your campus for the inspection. In this visit, the member will evaluate the enhanced changes in your administration processes, faculty members, provided facilities, course structure etc.

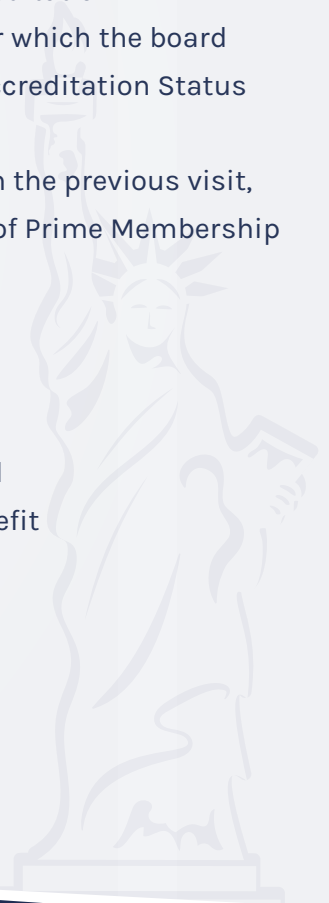

Evaluation commissioner member will submit his auditing report and feedback to the Prime Accreditation Commission for a final reviewing, after which the board will decide either to grant the Prime Accreditation Status to your institute or not.

If they observe the improvements from the previous visit, your institute will be given the status of Prime Membership from USBES.

STEP
05

PRIME MEMBERSHIP

This is the membership where you will secure a chance to get maximum benefit from USBES.
